

Nouns

by Kathleen Wiley

A noun is a person, place or thing...
A noun's usually something you can see...
It's a bird or a fish or a dog or a cat
Or the shadow of the branches of a tree...

A noun is a person, place or thing...
A noun's usually something you can see...
It's a swimsuit or an umbrella, a bucket or a shovel...
Or a blanket on the sands by the sea...

So nouns are things you need to know...
'Cause nouns are places you can go...
Like lakes and parks and beaches and mountains
Or many places just down the road.....

So tell me, what's a proper noun?....
It's a person, place or thing of renown...
It's a famous park or famous beach
Or restaurants where we all can eat...
Or any well-known place in your town....

But nouns we know are people too...
Did you know that a noun is me and you?
It's a mom or a dad or a sister or a brother
Or a grandpa or a grandma too.....

So a noun is a person, place or thing
And a noun will many pleasures bring....
As we write, as we read, we just realize the need...
Of using all our nouns properly....
